Manuscript Organization

All article types were requested to follow below formatting prior to submission. The preferred format for article is Microsoft word, PDF and LaTeX.

Article

- The article should be composed of Title, Abstract, Keywords, Abbreviations, Introduction, Main body, Conclusions, References, Acknowledgments and Conflicts of interest.
- The article should be written in English;
- The article should be at least 3 pages, and can be extended to 25 pages depending on the type of research.

Font: Times New Roman, Size: 10, Alignment: Justified

Abstract

- Concise and factual. It should state briefly the purpose of the research, the principal results and major conclusions.
- 100 to 300 words;
- No figures; Avoid numerical references
- Sub-sections if needed.

Keywords

- Major keywords used in the article are to be specified for indexing purpose;
- Minimum of 5 to 8 words should be provided;
- Separated by commas.

Abbreviations

Specify the abbreviations if any in the article. They should be defined at first mention in the text.

e.g CNS, central nervous system; ANS, autonomic nervous system

Introduction

The main text must be clearly paragraphed. State the objectives of the work and provide an adequate background, comprehensive insight on the purpose of the study and its significance, avoiding a detailed literature survey or a summary of the results.

Material and methods

This section may be divided by subheadings, sub-sub headings. Provide sufficient details to allow the work to be reproduced by an independent researcher. Methods that are already published should be summarized, and indicated by a reference. Any modifications to existing methods should also be described.

Results

Results should be clear and concise and also separate from the Discussion part. Each Tables and Figures must be found below their respective paragraphs from the Results part.

Discussion

This should explore the significance of the results of the work.

Conclusion

Conclusion should elucidate how the results communicate to the theory presented as the basis of the study and provide a concise explanation of the allegation of the findings.

Acknowledgments

Collate acknowledgments in a separate section at the end of the article before the references. List here those individuals who provided help during the research.

Conflicts of interest

Declare if any conflict of interest exists.

References

All references should be cited in the article in a consecutive order and ensure that every reference cited in the text is also present in the reference list (and vice versa).

List here all the references in numbered order of citation in the text. If more than three authors, list the first three followed by “et.al.”

Font: Times New Roman; Size: 08; Alignment: Justified
